AIRLESS TIPS – THE HEART OF THE SPRAYING PROCESS

In addition to the actual pump, they are the true heart of the spraying process. This is where the material is atomized and where the fineness of the droplet formation in the spray pattern is determined. The tip size also determines the quantity of material forced through the bore. Top-quality tips are a prerequisite for premium surface finishes in line with your professional standards.

TRADETIP 3 FINEFINISH TIPS
Top paint tip with optimised third-generation properties. With a double special core for ultra-fine droplet formation and exceptionally high-quality surfaces, even in low pressure ranges. FineFinish tips are coloured purple.

The tip angle determines the width of the spray angle, e.g. in this case 30°.

The bore diameter (in this case Ø 0.010 inch) determines the volume and the amount of paint applied.

The ideal distance from the object is around 300 mm.
